Trust the Experts:

Choose a Telemedicine solution designed for your organization

Thanks to the spread of video-conferencing technologies for Telemedicine applications, an increasing number of people can now easily access medical specialists remotely.

Compunetix video solutions for Telemedicine are tailored to make these remote video-conferencing visits as similar as possible to in person patient-doctor experiences.

Our dedicated focus to collaboration technologies allows us to address the wide-ranging requirements of healthcare organizations.

- On-premise vs. cloud solutions
- Custom branding vs. standardized solutions
- Exclusive video connectivity vs. enhanced features (recording, desktop sharing, chat, reporting, etc..)

We go beyond commodity solutions, by helping you to find the ideal way to connect patients with your organization.
